The world needs Science, and Science needs diversity.

— Rear Admiral Helena O. Mishoe, PhD, MPH, United States Public Health Service (Ret.)

RADM Helena O. Mishoe
Postbaccalaureate Fellowship for Underrepresented Scientists

- 1-2 years of intensive research training at the NHLBI in Bethesda, MD
- Open to recent college graduates with a GPA of 3.3 or higher from underrepresented populations preparing for graduate or professional (medical / dental / veterinary) school
- Fellows receive:
  - A competitive stipend
  - Support to attend national scientific meetings
  - Support for continuing education and GRE/MCAT preparation courses
- NHLBI research encompasses basic, clinical, and translational science, from molecular biology to population-based studies.
- Identify an NHLBI mentor here: https://go.usa.gov/x7Gbp

Application period is October 31 to December 31, 2020

For more information and to apply, go to our web site: https://go.usa.gov/xVpkU

Contact us with any questions at diirecteducation@nhlbi.nih.gov