While at Yale, you will develop expertise in your field as well as other skills that are important to any career. For example, graduate students and postdocs are skilled at:
  • Identifying and solving problems
  • Executing multi-year projects
  • Synthesizing large amounts of information and dealing with ambiguity
  • Implementing feedback from multiple sources
  • Communicating complex ideas
  • Working with collaborative teams
  • Managing conflict and building consensus
  • Organizing events (workshops, seminars)
  • Securing funding through grants

Strengthen Your Professional Skills
Build skills by taking advantage of the many opportunities offered by Yale organizations, including:
  • Graduate Professional Experience Fellowship
  • Yale Graduate Impact Fellowship (Humanities)
  • Poorvu Center for Teaching and Learning
  • Tsai Center for Innovative Thinking at Yale
  • Digital Humanities Lab
  • Yale StatLab
  • Center for Collaborative Arts and Media
  • Yale Ventures
