Other Impactful Experiences

To provide some additional context around each individual's application, admissions committees are interested in learning more about the challenges applicants may have overcome in life. The following question is designed to give you the opportunity to provide additional information about yourself that is not easily captured in the rest of the application.

Please consider whether this question applies to you. Medical schools do not expect all applicants to answer "yes" to this question. This question is intended for applicants who have overcome major challenges or obstacles. Some applicants may not have experiences that are relevant to this question. Other applicants may not feel comfortable sharing personal information in their application.

Have you overcome challenges or obstacles in your life that you would like to describe in more detail? This could include lived experiences related to your family background, financial background, community setting, educational experiences, and/or other life circumstances.*

How should I know if I should answer "Yes" to this question?

Yes

No

Other Impactful Experiences Description

The following examples can help you decide whether you should respond "yes" to the question, and if so, what kinds of experiences you could share. Please keep in mind that this is not a fully inclusive list and any experiences you choose to write about should be ones that directly impacted your life opportunities.

Example Experiences

- Family background: serving as a caretaker of a family member (e.g., siblings, parent/guardian), first generation to college.
- Community setting: rural area, food scarcity, high poverty or crime rate, lack of access to regular healthcare (e.g., primarily used urgent care clinics or emergency room, no primary care physician).
- Financial background: low-income family, worked to support family growing up, work-study to pay for college, federal or state financial support.
- Educational experience: limited educational opportunities, limited access to advisors or counselors who were knowledgeable/supportive of higher education requirements.
- Other general life circumstances that were beyond your control and impacted your life and/or presented barriers.

Writing Instructions

- Select the most impactful experiences. Describe the challenge(s) or hardship(s) you consider most impactful in your life.
- Write about how experiences impacted your life. Write about any topics you deem important to discuss, including information that might be mentioned elsewhere in your application (e.g., your personal statement). You can use the space provided in this question to further elaborate on those topics, if desired.
- Use a narrative style format. Describe your impactful experience(s) in a narrative format to help admissions committees understand your story, but be mindful of the 1,325 character limit.

You must enter all of the courses you took at each school. Prior to entering your coursework, you are encouraged to watch some brief tutorials that will guide you through the process of entering your coursework. Click on the links below to learn about the process of entering coursework:

Please review additional information about coursework in the AMCAS Applicant Guide.

i If you do not need to enter coursework for any of your schools attended, please select None for the applicable school(s). In order for AMCAS to process your application, all required coursework must be entered. Please refer to the AMCAS Applicant Guide for more information about entering coursework.

Coursework

Add Course

Please be sure to enter all course(s) in the correct academic year, academic term, and year in school to avoid delays in application processing time.

Reminder: The AMCAS year begins with summer and ends with spring. Courses taken in the summer should be entered with the next academic year, even if your institution considers them in the previous academic year. For example, if you took a course in the first summer session of 2016, you should enter it as the 2016–2017 academic year, even if your school considers it in the 2015–2016 academic year.

Coursework Tips

- Include plus or minus grades.
- The AMCAS academic year begins with the summer term.
- Include your Physical Education courses.
- Have course descriptions available when entering course classifications and review the course classification chart thoroughly.
- If you applied in a previous year, update your final grades.
- Include your original alpha grade for all attempts of a repeated course.

Coursework: Things to Avoid!

- If your transcript shows letter grades do not enter numeric grades or quality points in the grade field.
- Do not enter the course number as the course name.
 - For example: BIO 101 Intro to Biology should be entered as Course Name: Intro to Biology and Course Number: BIO 101 NOT ~~Course Name "BIO"~~ ~~Course Number "101"~~.
- Do not enter special symbols or characters when entering the courses name and course number.
- Do not enter your summer courses in the wrong year.
 - For example: If your course was taken in the summer of 2024 it goes in AY 2024-2025 in the AMCAS application.

Coursework: Things to Avoid!

- Do not classify Physics classes as ~~Natural Physical Science~~. The classification for Physics courses is as Physics (PHYS).
- If any course has both a lecture and a lab component, do not list both grades in a single entry.
 - For example: Biology Lecture B+ Biology Lab C+ do not enter ~~Biology B+/C+~~
- Do not omit withdrawals or repeated courses.
- Do not forget to add Advanced Placement courses.
- If your application is returned for 10+ missing courses, do not omit any courses when you resubmit.

Work/Activities: Things to think about

- How does this experience impact my future profession in medicine?
- Consider which premed competencies you gained experience in and how you developed or demonstrated these competencies through your experience.
- Be mindful that medical schools are trying to determine how you have tested out your decision of pursuing medicine.
- Enter only significant experiences.
- Include clinical and non-clinical activities – especially activities where you have led projects and/or people.
- Some schools have required experiences.

Letters of Evaluation

*Indicates required field

Letters of Evaluation/Recommendation *

Your letter authors must send your letters through the AMCAS Program if you are applying to one or more schools participating in the AMCAS Letters Service. Most medical schools participate. See the list of participating schools. You must contact schools that do not participate to determine their letter of evaluation requirements. The AMCAS Program will not forward your letters to these schools. Please review additional information about letters of evaluation.

Deadlines:

Letter deadlines for authors are established individually by each medical school, so check school websites for deadline dates. You must submit your application before entering letters. You may submit your application before AMCAS receives your letters.

New letter entries may be added and assigned to medical schools after you have submitted your application. However, once you have submitted, existing letter entries cannot be edited or deleted; they can only be marked "No Longer Being Sent."

Letter Release Policy and Author Guidelines:

- Letters sent to the AMCAS Program cannot be released to applicants or letter authors under any circumstances, and are provided only to medical schools that are participating in the AMCAS Letter Service.
- Re-applicants should note that letters received by the AMCAS Program do not rollover to later application years, so advise letter authors to keep a copy of their letter.
- The AAMC publishes a list of guidelines for letter of evaluation authors. A link to the guidelines is on the letter request you provide to your letter authors.

A maximum of ten (10) letter entries may be created on this page. Letters may be associated to medical schools on the Medical School Selection page. For help, watch "How to Add Letter of Evaluation Entries & Assign them to Medical Schools" Tutorial.

Essay: Things to think about

- By the end of reading your statement, the reader should understand why you want to be a physician.
- Admissions officers want to learn something about you that they can't find in any other part of your application.
- When you consider what to write, think about the series of events in your life that have led up to the point where you are applying to medical school.

Essay Quick Tips

- Proofread your essay.
- Check for spelling errors.
- Read it BACKWARDS.
- Read it “Out Loud.”
- Have mentors and loved ones review it.
- Make sure that it’s your statement – though others might have suggestions, the final document is yours and must reflect your reason(s) for pursuing medicine.

Essay Do's and Don'ts

DO

- Make sure your statement addresses your reason(s) for wanting to pursue medicine
- Have a lot of people review it – friends, colleagues, mentors, letter writers
- Be mindful that all medical schools will receive the same AMCAS application
- Check and re-check for grammatical and spelling issues – your application is your first impression

DON'T

- Speak in generalities
- Be informal
- Include/restate everything in your activities section in your personal statement
- Make your statement “too personal” – you should be able to talk about the personal statement contents in an interview

Anatomy of an Applicant

Premed Competencies: Self-Assessment

When evaluating your readiness for medical school, schools assess your development, understanding, and proficiency in the premed competencies through your experiences as described in the AMCAS application, personal statement, interview, letters of recommendation, and performance on other assessments (e.g., MCAT exam, PREview exam).

You should periodically assess or reassess your learning and development in these competencies to determine where you may need additional experiences to better prepare for medical school.

Using the sheet below, reflect on each competency area and what experiences have given you an opportunity to learn and develop in the competency. (You can view all competencies and their definitions at the end of this document.)

Shelby Snyder: Pioneering Paths in Indigenous Healthcare, Breaking Barriers in Medicine

"Lean into your community, culture, and identity to keep you grounded, and remember that your path and perspective are valid. Take time to reflect on why you want to go to medical school and what values or skills you'll carry in that process."

Balancing Act: Lihlenz Saint-Louis' Medical Odyssey of Dedication, Determination, and Healing

"Scores and grades can only get you so far without a story to sell yourself and the experiences to back it up. Everyone from here on out is very intelligent, but that increase in raw intelligence has diminishing returns. At this point in your career, it matters more who you are as a person and the soft qualities you bring to the table that will help you become a better physician and colleague."

Dedication to Making a Difference: Richard Piszczatowski's Journey to Medical School

"Never get discouraged. Each person's path is very different, and the strongest candidates are those that show how they have found their own path headed towards a career in medicine."
